Let's Get Honest! Blog

2017 Table of Contents Continues Themes From 2016.

leave a comment »

Image Filename: Sticky Post#1 2017 TOC Screen Shot 2017-02-07 at 8.31.10PM

Rev. 1/12/2017

For 2017 Link to this post for this year: 2017 Table of Contents Continues Themes from 2016   I am writing mid-January, 2017, so all posts still display (for now) on "Most Recent Posts" on the sidebar. The (short, so far) Table for 2017 however, is at the bottom of this page.

- Valuable material in addition to the actual list (table) of posts remains on the 2016 post, but I included below on this post some images of the actual TOC 2016 (minus the extra narratives), which copied into a word-processing document, formatted, then "printed to pdf." Printing to pdf and loading that pdf onto the blog (accessible by a single click on the link I provide) produces a document in which every post in that table can be accessed by clicking on its name.
    - This sounds more complex than it is. Anyhow, after those images and the "access" link comes the Table for 2017, which I will add to as I publish each post. In fact it's towards the end of this (so far, short) post.

- As before, the right sidebar will display titles and links to only the last few posts. I have it set to only eight. The blog as a whole contains about 670 posts.

For 2016 ONLY with valuable material before/after: